he duly qualified his appn may be accepted

(18) As regards No I Gr IV, there is nothing in the rules against his candidature. But, according to the ~~xxxx~~ practice in such matters a member of the Council cannot stand for election to the Council, owing to his being already there. It seems to be a contradiction in terms that an existing member should seek to be elected as a member, before his period as a member expires.

SPM 27/2

(Dr Sesh)

The Rules do not say anything against a member standing for election for membership again, as such a contingency does ordinarily occur.

67 The annexed statement shows the number of Electoral Bodies in each Group in respect of which (1) voting papers have not been received, (2) the first two candidates have secured an equal number of votes and (3) the voting papers have been mixed up making it impossible to find out the candidate who got the highest number of votes from each Body.

68 With regard to each of the Groups, I, III and IV, the disparity between the number of votes secured by the first and second candidates is so great that even if all the votes in the case of the Bodies named in the annexed statement go to the second candidate, the first candidate will still have a clear majority of votes, so that he may be unhesitatingly declared as duly elected for the Groups concerned.

69 It is only in respect of Group II (Mysore and Hassan) that some doubt may be felt as the difference in the number of votes in the case of the first candidate (Mr.S.Venkatesiah) and the one next to him (Mr.C.Narasimhaiya) is only 3. The voting papers for Alur Sub Taluk voters not having been received, will have to be left out of account. Of the 4 Local Bodies in which two candidates have obtained an equal number of votes Mr.Narasimhaiya shares the highest number of votes with another in 3 Bodies; and Mr.Venkatesiah, in one Body. Even if we take the votes of these Bodies as being given in favour of the first and second candidate respectively, we shall have 41 votes for Mr.S.Venkatesiah and 40 for Mr.C.Narasimhaiya. Thus, even giving the most favourable chances to the second candidate, the total number of votes he secures is less by one than that of the first candidate; and therefore, the first candidate Mr.S.Venkatesiah may be declared duly elected.

Submitted to His Highness.

73 I submit, for His Highness's information, the results of the elections held on the 14th instant in connection with the nomination of four non-official members to the Legislative Council from the District Groups.

74 The four gentlemen noted in the margin

1. Mr. B.K. Garudachar.
2. Mr. S. Venkatesaiya, B.A., B.L.
3. Mr. K. Shankar Narayan Rao, M.A., B.L.
4. Mr. B. Venkata Shamanna, B.A., B.L.

have secured a majority of votes in their respective Groups and their appointment as non-official members will be duly notified in the Gazette.
